

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I begin by acknowledging the sovereignty of the Kurna people upon whose land I live as editor of this issue in Adelaide, South Australia. I also wish to acknowledge the fact that other contributors to the issue live upon lands illegally possessed, both in Australia and in Canada, and to therefore acknowledge the sovereignty of the First Nations people upon whose lands we live in colonial nations such as Australia and Canada.

My thanks go to all of the contributors for their wonderful essays, without which this issue would not have happened. Thanks to the reviewers: Bronwyn Levy, Katrina Schlunke, Gilbert Caluya, Olivia Khoo, David McInnes, Tseen Khoo, and Shalmalee Palekar. Thanks also to Jane Haggis, Peter Gale and Tracey Bunda for constituting the ACRAWSA executive sub-committee who checked over the issue and its contents.

Many thanks to Mandy White for proofing the issue and for correcting the typesetting.

Thanks to Ian Barnard for his exciting and innovative text and for the impetus it provided for this issue, and to Fi Nicoll for initially encouraging me to edit this issue and for helpful suggestions along the way.

Finally, thanks to Greg and our child Gary, for support, proof reading and for just generally helping all of this make sense.

Damien W. Riggs
The University of Adelaide
December 2006