

Building the project

Sydney's Desalination Project

Sydney Water has contracted with the Blue Water Joint Venture to deliver the plant and the Water Delivery Alliance to build the pipeline from Kurnell to Erskineville.

Constructing Sydney's Desalination Plant

Blue Water Joint Venture includes two of Australia's leading water infrastructure engineering and operations and maintenance companies – John Holland and Veolia Water.

Blue Water is designing and constructing the desalination plant and will operate and maintain the plant for 20 years when it is completed.

Constructing the pipeline

An alliance including Sydney Water, Bovis Lend Lease, McConnell Dowell, Kellogg Brown & Root, WorleyParsons and Environmental Resource Management, are working together to build the pipeline from Kurnell to Erskineville.

