

Born to be wild

Fewer than 7,000 tigers are in the wild, down from 100,000 a century ago.

The United Nations Environment Programme is helping tigers survive.

Photo: John Issac in India

Another way the UN

WORKS

www.un.org/works